WORST FIRE IN 20 YEARS CAUSES A $60,000 LOSS

FIRE LOSS IS PUT AT $61,650

Estimates Today Place Damage Several Thousand Dollars Higher Than Early Predictions.

CAPP HOME TO BE REBUILT

Uncertain as to What the Course of Phoenix Masonic Temple Association, Owner of Block, Will be.

From the best sources obtainable
today the fire loss of early Sunday morning is computed at $61,650 and the insurance covering these losses
at $25,250.

This is higher than the first estimate, which placed the loss at $55,- 500. The loss to A. R. Holden, undertaker is a thousand dollars higher than it was believed to be Sunday and the loss of Frank Capp is twice as large as first estimated.

Practically all of the business houses suffering from the fire were arranging today for temporary locations. The postoffice was moved across the street into the north room of the Commercial block. It is unsettled yet as to whether the Masonic block will be rebuilt. Frank Capp will build a home on the site
of the destroyed one at once.

The losses and the insurance in each case is as follows: Phoenix
Masonic Temple association, owner
of the Masonic building loss, $40,- 000, insurance, $16,000; J. W.
Jackson, grocer loss, $5,300, insurance, $4,500; Frank Capp, residence, loss $10,000, insurance
$3,000; Capp Plumbing company,
loss $4,000, insurance $1,500; A. R.
Holden, undertaker, loss $1,500, insurance none; postoffice, loss $500,
insurance none; United States Express company, loss $100, insurance unknown; Rushville Co-operative Telephone company, loss $250, insurance will cover it.

No steps have been taken by the board of directors of the Phoenix Masonic Temple association, which owned the Masinoc block, to determine what course to pursue. No meeting of the board has been called and it is not known yet when one will be held.

James E. Watson is president of the board and it would be subject to his call. He is now engaged in Washington. Other officials of the board would not venture an opinion
as to whether or not the block would be rebuilt. The secretary of the board is R. C. Hargrove and E. H.
Payne is treasurer. The other directors are Ephriam Ball, J. P. Frazee, R. G. Budd and J. V. Young.

The Masonic block was built in 1908 by the Phoenix Masonic Temple association, which is an organization of Masons separate and distinct from the lodge. The building cost $31,500. It is believed by Masons that the lodge paraphernalia
and equipment was worth at least $8,500. All of the Masonic costumes were owned individually and are complete losses since no insurance was carried on them.

Frank Capp, who resides on the corner of Fourth and Main streets
just north of the Masonic block, was the heaviest individual loser. The old Capp homestead, which has been standing on that corner thirty-seven

SEARCH BEFORE BLAZE IS FOUND

Nightwatchman Smells Smoke But Unable to Determine Location
of Fire—Building Goes Rapidly.

STARTS IN CENTER OF ROOM

No Water Pressure and Intense Heat
Handicap Firemen—Origin
is Not Known.

The worst fire that has visited
this city in twenty years occurred
early Sunday morning when the Masonic Temple and the residence of Frank Capp were destroyed. The fire was very spectacular and that more property was not burned is really remarkable when the poor
water supply is taken into consideration.

While making his rounds about
two-fifteen o'clock Sunday morning, Nightwatchman Sullivan smelled
smoke coming from the ground floor of the Masonic Temple building. The nightwatchman was unable to determine in which of the four rooms
the fire seemed to be, but at first thought it was in the room occupied by the Capp Plumbing and Electrical company. Sullivan awakened Albert Capp, one of the proprietors of the firm and together
they searched for the blaze.

No flames were found in the room occupied by the plumbing
company and the search was extended to the other rooms. All the time the smoke was increasing and an alarm was sounded. The men could see no blaze and discovered that the fire was in the store owned by J. W. Jackson by the fact that the windows were red hot. Up until this time no flames were in evidence.

As soon as the front door of the Jackson store was opened and the smouldering flames were given air
the fire seemed to break out over the entire store. Lines of hose were laid to the front and back door but because of the intense heat the lines
could not be extended far enough into the store to reach the blaze. The line going in from the front door
was extended only about twenty feet
inside because of the heat and smoke. The flames seemed to be in the center of the room.

The two streams of water did little good as the water pressure would not carry as far as the flames.
When it was seen that there was not water or pressure to be had
from the city plant the fire engine
was brought out and placed in charge of Will McGuire and Stewart Beale. The acting fire chief directed them to pull up at the well at the corner of Main and Second street. A line of hose was laid from the engine to the rear of the Jackson store. By this time the flames were everywhere in the store
and were rapidly spreading.

The well at the corner of Main and Second streets lasted just four minutes. The engine was then moved to the mill-race bridge in Main street. Twenty minutes were lost in moving the engine and laying the additional hose. By the time water was once more played on flames the second story, occupied by the Masonic lodge, was on fire. The heat

WHAT BECAME OF FIRE PRESSURE?

Officials Say There Was Plenty of Water But Size of Stream Did Not Show It.

MAYOR BLACK'S EXPLANATION

States They Were Depending on Fire Engine to do Work—More About Empty Reservoir.

With eight feet of water in the reservoir Sunday morning when the fire in the Masonic Temple was discovered, the firemen and the citizens of the city are wondering what happened to the fire pressure.

Mayor Black stated this morning that the department was depending on the fire engine to supply the necessary water and pressure. "As a caution," said Mayor Black,
"Stewart Beale was taken from the water and light plant Saturday night and placed at the engine house
with instructions to use the engine
should there be a fire in the business district. There was no pressure from the plant for this reason."

The firemen complained of the pressure and at no time did it improve. When the water pressure did not improve the supposition was that the supply had given out. Mayor Black says this is not so as he was informed that there was eight feet of water in the reservoir. When water was first thrown on the flames
in the Jackson store the pressure
was so weak that it was impossible to make any progress against the flames and one of the firemen stated yesterday that the line of hose he held did not throw a stream sufficient to hit the ceiling.

The fire coming as it did just after the reservoir had been drained Friday night through some unknown
cause, led to much severe criticism against the city. Depending on the fire engine alone to supply water pressure and then, coming as it did,
a quarter of a mile away, did not help the situation, and on the face
of things it would seem that there should have been more pressure from the plant had there been eight feet of water in the reservoir.

If the city was to depend on the engine in case of fire in the business district, why was not the fire department notified? The members say they did not know it. Had they known of this arrangement much time could have been saved and they could have bent their efforts toward placing the engine and it would have been in operation much sooner than was done. As it was the flames made such rapid progress that the stream from the engine did little good except save the surrounding buildings.

One hundred and eighty-five pound
pressure was given from the engine,
but as it was located nearly four blocks away this pressure was greatly diminished by the time it reached the scene of the fire. The city officials maintain that the poor showing of the firemen in fighting the Masonic Temple fire was no fault of the city supply: There are people, however, who maintain that had there been sufficient pressure at the start
the flames could have been confined to the Jackson store, where the fire

Masonic Block Which Was Destroyed

TOWN OF ORANGE HAS A MYSTERY

Stranger Writes "Knabe Slayer"
Backward on Fence and Asks
Villagers to Think of Him.

TALKED TO SOME CHILDREN

Woman Recalls Man and Says That
He Looked Insane—Odd
Light in His Eyes.

Mystery envelopes the name
"Réyals Ebank," which a strange man wrote on a fence post in Orange. The stranger, who was about thirty-five years old, strolled
into the village southeast of here,
last Friday. He was fairly well dressed, and is described by the few persons who saw him as good looking, fair skinned and with an odd,
dancing light in his eyes.

He approached a group of children
at play and talked to them kindly,
saying he wished he was a little boy
again. He won their confidence, spent a half hour with them and
then started away.

"You don't know my name, little friends, do you?" he asked as he was leaving. The children said they did not.

"Well, it's a strange name, a very strange name," he said. "I won't speak it. I'll just write it down for you. When you look at it think of me, although I am gone."

So saying he crawled the name on a whitewashed post, and went his way.

That evening the children told of the visitor, and of his writing his name, which they could not pronounce. By chance some villager,
looking at the scrawl on the post,
read it backward, and spelled out
"Knabe Slayer." Inquiry was begun at once. The man came into the village from toward Connersville,
and had left to the southward, but he had given his little audience by the post no hint where he was from or where he was going. The small boys noticed that his eyes were especially bright. One woman, who saw him pass her doorstep, thought he was insane.

MONEY WAS SCORCHED.

When Mull Wallace, agent of the U. S. Express company, opened the safe that stood in his office and went through the fire, he found the money all scorched. The silver was black and the bills were ready to fall into pieces. It was possible to tell who the checks were written by, but handling caused them to drop into pieces. The checks were turned into the banks and new ones written
and the paper money was redeemed by the banks.

J.E. WATSON MAY FILE LIBEL SUIT

Former Congressman May Use This Means to Obtain Hearing Before the Country.

CHARGES BY M. M. MULHALL

Right of Cross Examination Denied
by Senate Lobby Committee.
House May do the Same.

Washington dispatches today say
it is almost certain that one or more libel suits will be filed against Martin M. Mulhall, confessed lobbyist of the National Association of Manufacturers. It is indicated that James E. Watson of this city will be among the first to bring suit so as to get a hearing before the country.

When Mulhall went on the witness stand again today, it was expected he would need at least three more days to complete his direct story. Today he narrated events connected with the closing days of the campaign of 1906, telling of his activities in Indiana, New Jersey and certain congressional districts
in Pennsylvania, Maryland, Michigan and Ohio.

An interested listener was James E. Watson, who is to take the stand and contradict material parts of Mulhall's story regarding his work in aiding Watson to run for Governor of Indiana. Watson says that Mulhall volunteered his services.
Much of Mulhall's story today was an amplification of his earlier ef-orts, and little that was entirely
new was developed.

It is known that James E. Watson, who maintains that he has been grossly libeled by Mulhall, is contemplating proceedings against him in the courts, and it is believed several more of those mentioned in his voluminous correspondence are shaping their plans to the same end. Mr.
Watson would not talk for publication about his intentions except to admit that he had such a course in view the dispatches say.

One object in bringing court proceedings would be to open up an opportunity to cross-examine Mul-hall on the various points of his story. This opportunity is not given by the Senate lobby committee,
and it probably will be denied also
by the House lobby probe tribunal.

STAMPS IN RUINS.

John Kennedy probably possesses all of the stamps that were saved from the fire with the exception of those locked in the postoffice safe. He found a small pile in the ruins this morning. It was barely possible to distinguish the outline of the stamps.

PARCEL POST IS TO BE EXTENDED

Maximum Weight Limit Will be Increased From 11 to 20 Pounds
Beginning August 15.

RATES WILL BE REDUCED

Parcel Post Map as a Means of Computing Rates Will be Abandoned at the Same Time.

After August 15 the maximum weight of parcels carried by parcel post will be twenty pounds instead of eleven pounds which has been the maximum since the innovation was started, according to announcement made by the postmaster
general at Washington.

The new plans of the postmaster
general for an extension, improvement and reduction of rates in the first and second zones, together with the abandonment of the parcel post
map as a means of computing rates,
and the substitution for it of a rate chart individualized to every postoffice in the United States.

While for the present the maximum weight limit of twenty pounds
and the reduction in rates will apply
only to the first and second zones
from and given postoffice—a distance of about 150 miles—the changes directed today constitute the first long step toward a universal extension of the system and a general reduction in the rates of postage on parcel matter.

Statistics collected by the department show that one-third of the number of parcels mailed are handled within the proposed first and second zones, and the postmaster general believes the increase in the weight limit and the reduction of the rates of postage in the first and second zones, as proposed, will benefit greatly more than one-third of the public and that the producer,
the consumer and the local merchant
will profit materially by the changes.
The postmaster General points out, too, that the farmers, who were led to anticipate much benefit from the parcel post service, will be afforded a cheap means of transporting their products directly to the consumer, and that the local merchant, whose trade does not justify the employment of extensive delivery service also will be benefited, as the system will put him in close touch
with his customers.

At the outset it was estimated that 300,000,000 parcels would be handled during the first year of the operation of the parcel post system,
but it now appears from the statistics that, influenced by the changes proposed today, the services will be so popularized that the number of parcels carried during the ensuing twelve months will be more than double the original estimate.

The rate sheet, which is to be used as a substitute for the parcel post
map, will be prepared as soon as practicable and attached to the parcel post guide. The rate chart, to office, will be worked out from the local point of the unite in which the postoffice is located.

The simplicity of the plan, it is thought, will make easily determinable the rate of postage from that unit to any other on any mailable
parcel, and will greatly facilitate the handling of parcel post matter
at postoffice windows. Under regulations recently adopted the use of distinctive stamps no longer is mandatory, and the public is permitted to mail parcels with ordinary stamps
affixed.

The insurance fee, which originally was 10 cents, was found to be excessive and an order, effective July 1, reduced to 5 cents the fee on

UNIVERSAL PEACE PLAN GIVEN OUT

Secretary Bryan Submits It to Foreign Representatives.

INDORSED BY PRESIDENT.

Proposal, With Supplementary Memorandum, Calls For Investigation by an International Commission of Disputes of "Whatever Character and Nature"—Text of Plan.

The state department has just made public in Washington the text of the proposal of the president and secretary of state to the nations of the world for universal peace. The proposal, with the supplementary memorandum, handed to the representatives in Washington from foreign governments is:

The parties hereto agree that all questions of whatever character and nature in dispute between them shall, when diplomatic efforts fail, be submitted for investigation and report to an international commission (the composition to be agreed upon), and the contracting parties agree not to declare war or begin hostilities until such investigation is made and report submitted.

Secretary Bryan's Plan.
The investigation shall be conducted as a matter of course upon the initiative of the commission without the formality of a request from either party. The report shall be submitted within (time to be agreed upon) from the date of the submission of the dispute, but the parties hereto reserve the right to act independently on the subject matter in dispute after the report is submitted. Secretary Bryan's plan is:

"In the peace plan proposed by the president to all the nations the composition of the international commission is left to agreement between the parties, and I am authorized to suggest for the consideration of those who are willing to enter into this agreement:

"First.—That the international commission be of five members, to be composed as follows: One member from each of the contracting countries, to be chosen by the government; one member to be chosen by each of the contracting countries from some other country, and the fifth member of the commission to be agreed upon by the two governments, the commission to be appointed as soon as convenient after the making of the treaty, vacancies to be filled according to the original appointment.

"Second.—The time also is to be agreed upon, and it is suggested that that time be one year. If a year is considered too long or too short this government will consider either a greater or a less period.

Providing For Emergencies.
"Third.—This government is prepared to consider the question of maintaining the status quo as to military and naval preparations during the period of investigation if the contracting nation desires to include this, and this government suggests tentatively that the parties agree that there shall be no change in the military and naval program during the period of investigation unless danger to one of the contracting parties from a third power compels a change in said program, in which case the party feeling itself menaced by a third power shall confidentially communicate the matter in writing to the other contracting party, and it shall thereupon be released from the obligation not to change its military or naval program, and this release will at the same time operate as a release of the other contracting party. This protects each party from the other in ordinary cases and yet provides freedom of action in emergencies.

"All of these suggestions, however, are presented for consideration and not with the intention of imposing any fixed conditions. The principle of investigation being accepted, the details are matters for conference and consideration."

PHILADELPHIAN INVENTS SUNSHINE SUBSTITUTE.

Says He Has Perfected Apparatus Emitting Rays of Daylight.

Dr. Herbert E. Ives, a prominent scientist of Philadelphia, claims to have invented a substitute for daylight. He has been at work for a dozen years at the research laboratories of that city's gas plant and finally has produced, he says, a light which has passed the test and is in every way equal to sunshine and the light of day.

He has designed a powerful incandescent lamp with a special mantle which is so placed in the top of a specially made cabinet that its rays are immediately beneath a reflector. This is made of metal, and the light is forced downward through a series of delicately colored screens.

In telling of his discovery Dr. Ives said:

"My recent invention has a field of usefulness in certain industries, such as textile manufacturing, dyeing, color printing and similar arts. In color printing the presses can be run only so long as the ink put in by daylight lasts. With the aid of my invention the presses can be run every hour of the twenty-four.

"In the sorting of cigars their color cannot be told by artificial light. In dental work the color of artificial teeth cannot be told at night. In paper manufacture and the manufacture of flour they cannot tell the different grades. With the aid of this machine they can tell the grades all the time.

"Diamond buyers will only deal in the daylight. Now they will be able to make deals at any time. Surgery is another field of usefulness. The color of tissues cannot be detected by artificial light. Surgeons depend upon the color of tissues to tell whether they are diseased or not, and as a consequence major surgical operations can now be performed at night.

"The invention can be made in various forms to be used for different purposes. It can be used to light a small room or closet or it can be used to light a table so that one can read as by daylight at any time of the day or night."

COST OF LIVING CLIMBS.

Household Necessaries Higher by 17 Per Cent in a Year.

The continued higher cost of living is reflected in a report to Sherman Allen, assistant secretary of the treasury, by the government's general supply committee on the contracts it has let for supplies for the executive departments of Washington for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

This barometer of the trend of prices shows that the cost of groceries and household supplies has increased 17 per cent as compared with last year, lumber 10 per cent, fuel and ice 7 per cent and dry goods 5 per cent.

While these essentials are soaring, the report showed decreases in the prices of the following: Forage, flour and feed 2 per cent, paints and oils 12 per cent, hardware 7 per cent, and furniture, stationery and electrical engineering supplies 5 per cent each. These last named articles were stationery, drugs and chemicals, laboratory apparatus, photographic supplies, engraving and printing supplies and incandescent gas lamp supplies.

KNIFE REFORMED BANDIT.

Criminal Tendencies Gone After Twenty-four Years in Prison.

"Black Bar" Holzhay, sentenced for life to Marquette (Mich.) prison in 1889 for highway robbery, was released recently after having served twenty-four years.

Holzhay's exploits in the woods of northern Michigan and Wisconsin rivaled those of Jesse James. He held up stagecoaches and waylaid travelers. When received at the prison he was illiterate, ill kept and gave the prison authorities much trouble.

A surgical operation changed his character completely, and since it was performed he has been a model prisoner, studying hard and gaining a fair education.

SAFE AEROPLANE SOON A REALITY

Air Craft Won't Upset or Drop When Engine Stops.

PUBLIC EXHIBITION SOON.

Christopher Lake, the Inventor, Makes Announcement That He Has Solved Problem of Making Flying Safe. Practical Model of Multiplane Type Has Worked Well, It Is Asserted.

Christopher J. Lake lately announced to the Aero club that he had solved the problem of making aeroplanes safe and that he would give a public demonstration of his machine in August at his aerodrome in Bridgeport, Conn.

It is impossible, he said, for his machine to plunge to the earth, as the present type of aeroplane so frequently does, even when the engine stops. It will glide to the earth slowly and keep an even keel.

The inventor is vice president of the Lake Torpedo Boat company, manufacturers of the Lake submarines, and is father of Simon Lake, the inventor of the submarine which bears the family name. He says that in his aeroplane he has applied the same principles which were used in creating stability in the submarine and adds that the problems of under water and air navigation are much the same.

Has Tried It and It Works.
Mr. Lake has already taken out certain patents for the new aeroplane, and others are pending, both in this country and abroad. Until these patents are assured he is unwilling to describe just how he has solved the problem, but he asserts that he has demonstrated the practical efficiency of his device with a full size machine which he has been using at Bridgeport.

If a gust of wind strikes one side of the Lake machine, its inventor says, or if one side falls into an "air hole" the aeroplane will tip slightly and then recover its balance of itself. Because of its even keel in descending the new machine presents a broad surface to the air continually and comes down like a parachute, except that it takes a long glide.

In his experiments with models Mr. Lake suspended a model from a considerable height, bottom upward, and cut the string. The machine righted itself, he says, like a cat and glided down a long air incline to the earth. Dropped sideways also, the machine righted itself and sailed down safely.

No Need of High Speed.
Mr. Lake places strong emphasis on the ability of his aeroplane to take the air and stay in the air at reduced speeds. The driver of the type of machine now in use has to have his engine going very fast before the plane will leave the earth at all. Mr. Lake says that his machine will rise at a speed of only a few miles an hour—an easy driving gait. This machine is of the hydroaeroplane type and is a "multi" with the planes arranged like steps, but his new method will work just as well with monoplanes or biplanes.

COOK STOVES LEFT TO POOR.

Bequest of $10,000 Fifty-nine Years Ago Will Be Looked Up.

A hearing on a petition under the will of Thomas W. Sweetser, who died fifty-nine years ago, will be given in Boston the latter part of this month, when an unusual provision, that of providing the poor of Salem, Mass., with cook stoves, will get close attention.

The will stipulated that $10,000 be paid to his native city, that this be put on interest at 6 per cent forever and that $600 be spent annually in buying stoves and utensils for the poor if his estate amounted to $30,000 or more.

Trustees, to be elected, must supervise the administration of the charity and must keep on hand a supply of stoves of different sizes. Then, too, the trustees must keep on hand enough pipes for all the stoves.

If the will was made public fifty-nine years ago no official notice was taken and the gift was forgotten.

BERIBERI FROM EATING RICE.

Berlin Physician Proves Cause by Experimenting on Himself.

The Medical association of Berlin reports that Dr. Max Moszkowski, who has been investigating the causes of beriberi, shares the contention of Dr. Ellis Fraser and Professor Fletcher of the Malay states that beriberi is an assimilation disease caused by the use of rice.

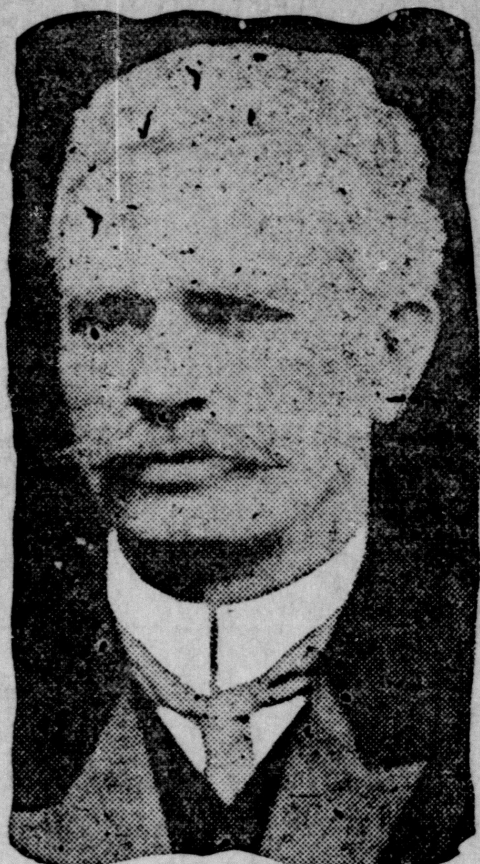

Dr. Moszkowski experimented on himself. He subsisted on rice for 138 days, after which all the symptoms of the disease manifested themselves. The injection of a serum containing extract of rice resulted in his complete recovery.

First Aid to Chickens.

Following a rain twelve little chickens at the T. J. Ritner home in Atchison, Kan., apparently had been drowned. Mrs. Ritner felt very bad about it, and her husband told her to resuscitate them by working their legs and wings back and forth as they do in life saving stations. Mrs. Ritner did so and brought ten of the chickens back to life.

BANKING REFORM IS AN ACTIVE MEASURE

Congress Going Right Ahead With Its Plans.

Washington, July 21.—Leaders are making plans, with debate on the tariff bill under way in the senate, for the consideration of the administration banking and currency bill. It is the purpose of the leaders to pass the banking bill in the house just about the time a vote is taken on the tariff bill in the senate. Then it is hoped the senate will buckle down to the consideration of banking reform while the tariff bill is being whipped into shape in conference. While the attitude of the senate toward the banking bill has not been defined, President Wilson and his advisers appear to be confident that the senate can be induced to sit long enough to pass the banking bill. This means a session that will run into the fall and possibly project itself into the winter, but all concerned seem to be bent on carrying out the administration program. It is the purpose of President Wilson and his advisers soon to begin sounding out sentiment in the senate on the banking bills. It is already apparent that no attention will be paid by either the house committee or the house itself to objections made by bankers to that feature of the pending bill that gives the government supreme control over the new system of banking proposed to be created.

Discussion of the administration bill was resumed by the Democratic members of the house committee on banking and currency today. Present indications are that by the end of the week an agreement will be reached on the measure. Most of the troublesome features of the bill have been passed. On every vote the administration forces have won. Efforts that have been made to force the committee to authorize a renewal of the money trust inquiry have been squelched and the radicals now realize they are in a hopeless minority.

FOOLED THE DETECTIVES

Mrs. Pankhurst Gains Her Freedom by a Bold Ruse.

London, July 21.—It turns out now that Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst has really escaped from her flat in Westminster, where she was under surveillance, and the police were the victims of a decoy plot. The detectives arrested a woman they thought was Mrs. Pankhurst late Saturday night, but released her when halfway to Holloway jail. They then returned to the flat and found that the real Mrs. Pankhurst had fled while they were taking the other woman to jail.

REGENERATION OF
BEGAN WHEN

Actor's Quick Eye After Rosenthal Murder Started Many Reforms.

WHAT'S in a number? That is the question New Yorkers are asking just now. For a number—and a simple arrangement of digits, at that, being merely "41313 N. Y."—furnished the clew that led to the unraveling of the mystery of the murder of Herman Rosenthal, gambler, and to the most sensational expose of police graft methods in the history of the nation's metropolis.

Had not a passerby noted that fateful combination of a 4 and a double 13 on the gray touring car that carried the assassins of Rosenthal in the early morning of July 16, 1912, it is probable that they would never have been apprehended, their identity, even if suspected, would never have become known and the later revelations of official corruption and criminality never brought out. Again, it may be said that only the foolhardy carelessness of the murderers themselves in failing to change the number of their car is, in the ultimate analysis, responsible for their apprehension and the events that have followed.

Both of these happenings, however, give the number 41313 N. Y. a peculiar significance in the history of New York life. In a sense it marks the beginning of the city's regeneration.

Because of it five men are now awaiting death in Sing Sing prison. Seven, including four former police inspectors, are convicts. A former police captain is dead of worry and remorse. Other policemen, trapped and disgraced despite the power of the system for which they looted and lied, are counting the hours before the doors of the penitentiary close behind them. And others still enjoy liberty only because of the procedure which permits a district attorney to protect informers.

Sixteen convictions or pleas of guilty obtained already for murder, bribery, extortion and conspiracy and at least six other convictions regarded as probable represent only the concrete results of the contemptuous carelessness of Rosenthal's murderers in raiding the Hotel Metropole with the number of their car flaunting through a brilliantly lighted street.

The larger but more intangible accomplishment which traces back to 41313 N. Y. is the shattering of the power of the arrogant and rapacious combination of policemen and panders, a combination loosely called "the system," that blackmailed unfortunate women and lawless men with a greed and hypocrisy and wickedness unrivaled even in New York's experience.

"System" Really Routed.

Within a year from the murder at the Metropole the people and the courts have put the fear of justice into the hearts of the masters and the tools of "the system," have punished many, have driven others from the city or into legitimate occupations and have accomplished all that the Lexow, the Mazet and other spectacular inquiries failed in twenty years to do. Within a year more has been done to reform the police department than had been accomplished in a generation.

That is one outcome of the killing of the little, complaining east side gambler, one phase of the public gain that came of the forgetfulness or the bravado of the killers in publishing their identity through the glare of the Tenderloin. That is the side of reputations destroyed and of lives disgraced, of detection and punishment.

How much some men of courage, ability and energy owe to 41313 N. Y. only the future can reveal.

District Attorney Charles S. Whitman is a leading candidate for mayor because he found and seized his opportunity for extraordinary public service by first dragging the number of the gray car from reluctant lips Frank Moss for his work with Whitman, Emory R. Buckner for his labors with the Curran aldermanic committee, which grew out of the first revelations made, and more than one other young man owe enhanced reputation and nation wide prominence to the number 41313 N. Y.

The One Clew.

It is not fancy or imagination that ascribes so much to the fortunate circumstances of an automobile number murderers did not trouble to remove or to falsify. The crime and the flight were so cunningly planned by experts in assassination that it is doubtful if the gun men ever would have been identified or Becker, their employer, exposed had not they been guilty of unbelievable stupidity in a trivial matter. District Attorney Whitman has said more than once that the case would have been hopeless if the car number had not been obtained.

The whole work of a year was based on that. If the number had been lost there would have been no arrests hot after the murder; no confessions by Rose and Webber and Vallon and Schepps; no conviction of Lieutenant Becker and of the gun men; no Curran committee revelations, with the consequent convictions of Inspectors Sweeney, Hussey, Murtha and Thompson and of their tools and collectors; no probing of the relations between treacherous policemen and their vile business partners; no such awakening of public conscience and spirit as forced effectual betterment and instigated a series of confessions.

Rosenthal himself, an unpleasant specimen of an unpleasant class, always a trouble maker and a "squealer," always snarling and clawing at the police and his own kind, was hardly to be believed when he made an affidavit on Saturday, July 13, 1912, that Lieutenant Charles Becker, the strong arm squad celebrity, was his gambling partner and promised to reveal to the grand jury the secret relations of police crooks with the protected gamblers.

Rosenthal's Revelations.

Whitman rather shook his head over the credibility of this east side gambler transplanted to the Tenderloin in the line of duty, but not hoping for much, he directed Rosenthal to appear on Tuesday, July 16, to give the names of gamblers who could clinch the accusations against Lieutenant Becker and other policemen. On Sunday and Monday Rosenthal's story swept over the city. Most people, perhaps, doubted its truth. A few believed it and predicted for Rosenthal a sudden and unhappy death. In gambling houses and saloons patronized by gamblers some who had reason to know Becker whispered that he would certainly kill the squealer.

On the night of Monday, July 15, 1912, Rosenthal took supper in Considine's Metropole, in Forty-third street, just west of Broadway, and nervously detailed his troubles with Becker and his plans for getting even to half a dozen half bored and cynical frequenters of the cafe. He was there until shortly before 2 o'clock on Tuesday morning, when he was told that some body wanted to speak to him outside. He walked out and was shot to death as he stepped over the threshold. It was exactly 1:57 a. m.

A little was revealed then and much later as to how a gray car had stopped by the south curb across from the cafe, how four men lounged across the street and waited by the door, how the street was unguarded by policemen, how the four rapidly slew Rosenthal and then escaped in the gray car, going east through Forty-third street.

There was no policeman to block the flight. No policeman secured accurately the number of the automobile. There was nothing but blundering confusion until the district attorney appeared at the West Forty-seventh street station, obtained the release of a vaudeville dancer who had been locked up as a witness and from him secured the correct number, 41313 N. Y.

The First Disclosures.

Promptly, then, the driver of the car was caught at his home and arrested. From his admissions it became known that "Bald Jack" Rose, a gambler, had knowledge of the murder. "Bridgey" Webber, a friend of Rose's, was arrested. Presently Rose, sick and moneyless, surrendered and told part of the truth—that he had hired the murderers. A day or two later Harry Vallon, an associate of Rose and Webber, surrendered jauntily.

The case began to unroll. It was found that Sam Schepps, a shrewd gambler, had fled from the city after playing a part in the crime. The district attorney obtained the names of the murderers—Frank Cirofici, Harry Horowitz, Louis Rosenzweig and Frank Muller, known generally as "Dago" Frank, "Gyp the Blood," "Lefty" Louie and "Whitey" Lewis. They had got out of the city.

On July 29 Rose, Webber and Vallon made a full confession to Whitman, admitting that at Lieutenant Becker's order they had hired the murderers and had planned the murder and that Becker was completely informed of the progress of the conspiracy, that he went to the station house to gloat over Rosenthal's body and that he paid $1,000 to the gun men. That night Becker was arrested and arraigned on a charge of murder.

Arrest of Murderers.

The arrest of the murderers followed quickly. Cirofici was caught in New York, "Whitey" Lewis was found in the Catskills, and "Lefty" Louie and "Gyp the Blood" were finally located in Brooklyn, where they had been hiding comfortably. Schepps was brought from Hot Springs, Ark.

On Oct. 24 at midnight Becker was convicted after a dramatic trial, in which the four informers told convincing stories. On Nov. 19 the four gun men were convicted. Rose, Webber, Vallon and Schepps were released as the reward for informing. An attempt to kill Webber was made only a short time ago.

Meanwhile the board of aldermen had appointed a committee, headed by Henry H. Curran, with Emory R. Buckner as counsel, to investigate the police department. The first important testimony was given by Mary Goode, who told how she had conducted a resort for years and had paid policemen for protection. Her story was the opening wedge of a long series of prosecutions. These are too recent to necessitate describing in detail. One after another persons of evil life testified against grafting police officials and policemen and laid the groundwork for grand jury indictments and criminal trials.

It was brought out that Inspectors Sweeney, Hussey, Murtha and Thompson had collected graft in Harlem and that they had raised a fund to get witnesses out of the state. They were convicted of conspiracy, largely on the testimony of former Police Captain Walsh, an admitted grafter, who has since died. The series of prosecutions was marked by the determined refusal of policemen to save themselves from prison by informing against their superiors.

Later Revelations.

Here is the list of convictions and pleas of guilty that resulted from the revelations brought out by the Curran committee:

Former Inspectors Dennis Sweeney, James E. Hussey, John J. Murtha and James E. Thompson, convicted of conspiracy, sent to prison for one year; Captain Thomas W. Walsh, confessed to extortion, dead; Sergeant Peter J. Duffy, convicted of extortion; Patrolman Eugene Fox, convicted of extortion; Patrolman Thomas F. Robinson, convicted of extortion; Patrolman John J. Hartigan, convicted of extortion; Edward J. Newell, lawyer, confessed to bribery, sentence suspended; Ashley Shea, confessed to bribery, awaiting sentence.

The trials of four policemen and of four others named as extortionists are yet to come.

The best work of the Curran committee was in bringing out facts for the district attorney to work on. The committee's report on its inquiry was not well received because of evidences contained in it of hostility to Mayor Gaynor and Police Commissioner Waldo and because the document had a strong partisan tinge.

Reviewing the accomplishments of a year since the murder of Rosenthal, it is difficult for any one not to become impressed with the singular part played in the whole astonishing business by the number of the gray car, 41313 N. Y.

The Sunday Fire.

The expected most generally happens. It has in Rushville. Ever since the water supply in Rushville has been low there has been a constant fear of disaster similar to that of early Sunday morning.

It was not alone the poor water pressure that is to be blamed. It is the negligence of some individual. The person who opened the water gates at the reservoir when they had been closed so the reservoir could be pumped full is responsible.

Mayor Black says he does not know who that individual was. He takes the responsibility from the shoulders of an employee of the city. Although Mayor Black's story is highly improbable—that an outsider opened the gates—it is the best information we have at hand and it must be accepted. It is quite impossible to conceive the reason any person would have for opening the water gates. Surely there is no one in Rushville who would intentionally bring down such a calamity on the city. And no one would do such a thing unintentionally except an employee of the city water and light plant whose business it would be to attend to such matters.

Another incongruity in Mayor Black's assertion is his excuse for the fire pressure not being turned on. He says it was not used because the city firemen expected the fire engines to furnish enough pressure to soon quench the fire. That is very weak indeed. The fire pressure is to be used when there are fires. The engines are for cases of emergencies. Undoubtedly this was a case of emergency and no one censures the fire company for using them as a last resort, but the fire pressure, if there was any, should have been tried out first.

The fire company blundered by not going out Third street to reach the mill race rather than Main street. The distance would have been shorter and there is not the grade there is in Main street. The company eventually placed the engine in Third street and got a good stream. This proves the blunder. But it was of little use except to protect surrounding property.

years, was valued at five thousand dollars before improvements were made by Frank Capp when he moved into it. He says that he spent five thousand dollars in making it modern. Mr. Capp said this morning he expected to build a home on the same sight just as soon as possible.

Very few things were saved from the Capp home. There were a few rocking chairs and some articles of wearing apparel taken from the first floor. They were taken to Dick Wilson's home. Mr. Capp thought that he had saved some of his clothes, but yesterday afternoon he discovered that all he possessed he had on his back.

The Capp homestead was one of the landmarks of the residence district of the city. When Frank Capp and family moved into it last fall, it was modernized in every respect. Some new rooms were added and a most complete bath room equipment was added.

In Mr. and Mrs. Capp's room stood a beautiful walnut bedroom suit thirty-seven years old. It was purchased by Fred Capp when he built the home. Mr. and Mrs. Capp prized it very highly, not only for its value because of its age, but because of the memories that it held in their minds. It was said by a furniture dealer recently to be the most valuable bedroom suit in the city. The carving on it was beautiful. Albert Capp lost $400 worth of new mahogany furniture in his room alone.

J. W. Jackson, grocer, suffered the next highest loss. He is certain of the amount of stock he had on hand because he took an inventory last June. He has not determined on a location.

The fire came at a very inopportune time for the Capp Plumbing company. That only $1,500 insurance was carried on stock of $4,000 is explained by the fact that a lot of fixtures which were to be used in contracts now being put in arrived here Friday and Saturday.

The new fixtures arriving were for the Peoples National bank building, Frank Wilson's new residence and John H. Kiplinger's home which is being remodeled. The plumbing company established offices in the garage back of where the Capp home stood this morning and will be doing business as usual tomorrow. A new stock of supplies was ordered this morning and was shipped this afternoon.

A. R. Holden, the undertaker, lost much more than was at first supposed. He carried no insurance at all. He had $53 in coin and all his accounts in the safe, which was supposed to be "fireproof," but which was destroyed. He recently took an inventory of his stock so that he is certain as to the loss. He saved his cooling board, embalmer's kit and church truck and is able to answer calls. He expects to find a temporary location today.

The loss in postoffice equipment is estimated at $500, with no insurance. No postoffice equipment is master Hunt, and the postoffice force tabulated in the Commercial block by ten o'clock in the evening. Temporary desks and temporary windows were made.

Many compliments were passed today on the manner in which Postmaster Hunt and the postoffice force soon restored the postal service. The value of the experienced postal clerks was readily recognized because they could route mail without the usual equipment.

S. R. Stewart, a postoffice inspector, was here yesterday and assisted in finding a location for the postoffice. The postoffice safe, in which there was $500 worth of registered money, still lay in the ruins of the fire today and it was not determined when the safe would be opened. The postmaster was told that if the safe were opened while hot that the stuff inside might ignite at once. The postoffice inspector did not believe this, but did not urge that the safe be opened.

W. T. Jackson, manager of the Rushville Co-operative Telephone company, estimated the loss to the company at $250. All of the windows in the front of the telephone building were broken by the heat. There were eight telephones in the Masonic building and Capp's residence, which caused a loss of ninety dollars to the company.

The United States express office was established this morning in the Poundstone building at the corner of Morgan and Third streets. The loss is estimated by the agent, Mull Wallace, at a hundred dollars. He knows nothing of the insurance. The counter and supplies in the office were burned, but all of the express and the desk was saved. J. Prestle, a route agent, was expected here this afternoon.

WHAT BECAME OF FIRE PRESSURE?

first started. Mismanagement some place down the line is alleged.

Fire Chief Hughes is ill at his home and was not at the fire. The firemen, aided by outsiders did as good as could be expected, working as they were under adverse conditions. The shortage of water or the pressure, which ever it was, caused considerable talk on conditions at the plant as they were Saturday morning when the reservoir was drained dry after the water had been shut off to repair a fire plug.

The mutual supposition was that as there was no water Saturday, there was bound to be a shortage yesterday. This is denied by the men in charge. The superintendent of the water and light plant, Frank Brown, still maintains that some unknown person lifted the water gates leading from the reservoir and that it was no fault of the city. The water was shut off from the mains at ten o'clock Friday night so that the fire plug at the corner of Main and Second streets could be moved. The city took advantage of this and repaired the plug at the corner of Second and Harrison streets.

Eight or nine fire plugs were opened so that the water from the mains could drain and not interfere with the work. The city workmen finished the work on the plug at Harrison and Second street and were on their way to help out on the other job when they received word that water was flowing in the mains and asking the superintendent to investigate. Mr. Brown went to the plant and found one of the two gates opened.

According to the superintendent the gates were closed by himself and Dan Long. How the one gate was opened allowing all the water to flow out is a mystery. Mr. Brown still is of the opinion that some one not connected with the plant is responsible. Just what was to be gained by someone opening the gate is hard to see. At the time the gates were closed there was ten feet of water in the reservoir and as the main leading from the gate that was opened by the "unknown person" is a ten-inch main the reservoir was drained very quickly.

The theory has been advanced that the gate was opened so that the soldiers of the ninth infantry could have water. It has been suggested that some one formerly employed at the plant opened the gate for the soldiers and did not think of the danger in which he placed the city. The theory, however, is easily exploded when it is taken into consideration that the soldiers knew that there would be no city water at the time they would leave Saturday morning. Postmaster Hunt notified the army officials about the water and they laid in a sufficient supply the night before.

One thing is certain and that is that the reservoir was drained and as the superintendent does not seem to know who did it—it would be well to investigate. The water supply is also lessened by the idleness of two of the city's $12,000 wells in the Jones pasture. Only one of the three wells is in operation. The two that are idle will give 80 gallons of water a minute. With these two wells in operation it is easy to see where the supply would be greatly increased, even in the course of a day.

As a remedy for conditions in case of fire, it has been suggested that pipe lines from the race be laid into all the cisterns in the downtown district and in case of fire there would be a steady stream of water into the cisterns. The engine would pump water from the cistern which would be supplied from the race. In this manner the engine would not have to be located so far away from the fire as was the case Sunday morning. The plan would be to have a steady fall in the pipe leading from the race. If the city is to depend on the fire engines for fire protection there must be sufficient water in the cisterns and in the case of yesterday it was shown that one cistern lasted only four minutes. With this arrangement the cisterns would never be dry and there would be all the water necessary.

—George W. Hall left Saturday for Elwood on a business trip through the northern part of the state.

—Mrs. Ottis Herron of Indianapolis came this morning for a week's visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cameron, north of the city.

—Mrs. James E. Watson has gone to Washington to join her husband, who is there awaiting to be examined by the lobby investigating committee.

—Mr. and Mrs. Dell Miles and Mr. and Mrs. Rich Miles of Raleigh motored to Summittville yesterday and visited their brother, Will Miles, Sunday.

—Mr. and Mrs. Paul P. Willis of Indianapolis spent yesterday afternoon here as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Scholl and family while returning home from a visit with relatives in Indianapolis.

—Miss Mattie Harrison, teacher in the Greensburg schools, is at her home in Richland township, but will leave soon to spend her summer vacation in Northern Michigan.

—Mr. and Mrs. James McCann, with their son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Carlisle of Connersville, spent a few hours here yesterday, viewing the fire ruins and calling on relatives. They made the trip in their touring car.

—Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Tingley and son and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas came over from Connersville yesterday and were guests of Mrs. Susan Tingley at her home in West Fifth street. While here they took "Aunt" Susan for a ride through the country in their auto, a real luxury for the aged woman which she enjoyed immensely.

CITY MAY FACE DAMAGE SUITS

Insurance Companies Liable to Bring Action, it is Said, Because of Negligence.

BELIEVED TO HAVE EVIDENCE

It was freely predicted today that the city of Rushville will have several damage suits to fight as the result of the fire Sunday morning. It is stated that the fire insurance companies would have ample evidence to prove negligence on the part of the city in allowing the water pressure to get so low that it afforded no protection whatever from fire.

It has been declared by those in a position to know that the fire insurance companies will pay the losses here and then attempt through the courts to get remuneration. It is said that such a move on the part of the insurance companies holding policies on the destroyed buildings and stocks is highly probable.

OVER POSTOFFICE ROOM

There is Strenuous Discussion Before Ruins Are Cool.

Even before the ruins of the Masonic block fire were cool there were many discussions on the streets as to where the postoffice would be located. This recalls the opposition to moving the office from the Havens room in Second street to the Masonic block when it was erected. Some people expressed the hope of seeing the office removed to the former room, but the place is occupied now. Still others favor leaving it in the temporary room in the Commercial block, but it is feared this place would not be large enough.

NO RIVER WATER IN MAINS

Mayor Black Makes Statement Concerning Rumors From Fire.

Mayor B. A. Black made the following statement this morning regarding rumors that river water had been turned into the city mains: "My attention has been called to rumors that river water was turned into the city water mains yesterday during the Masonic Temple fire. This is not the case and no alarm should be felt in drinking city water as the water is as pure now as before the fire. River water was at no time allowed to enter the mains as this is impossible. The people of the city need not worry over the purity of the water."

FIRE DEPARTMENT BUSY.

The fire department answered a false alarm at box 46, Seventh street and the Big Four railway last night at nine o'clock. The box was found opened. The police have no clue as to who turned in the alarm. Sparks set fire to the roof of the Ed Kelley blacksmith shop Saturday afternoon late but only small damage resulted. The department was called but the flames were extinguished before their arrival.

Born Saturday night to the wife of Byron Frazier in West First street, a girl.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Shankel, who died yesterday at their home north of the city was buried today in East Hill cemetery.

When the Water Supply is Exhausted

NO WORD FROM LONGLEY

Officials Don't Know Whether Fire Marshall Will Come.

Late this afternoon the city officials had received no word from William E. Longley, state fire marshal, as to whether or not he would come to Rushville to investigate the fire of Sunday morning. It has been his custom to view the ruins of fire of any consequence in Indiana and to get at the cause and losses sustained if possible. It is possible that his trip here, if he comes at all, may be delayed by the Indianapolis fire Saturday night which caused a loss of $500,000.

HURT BY FALLING BRICK.

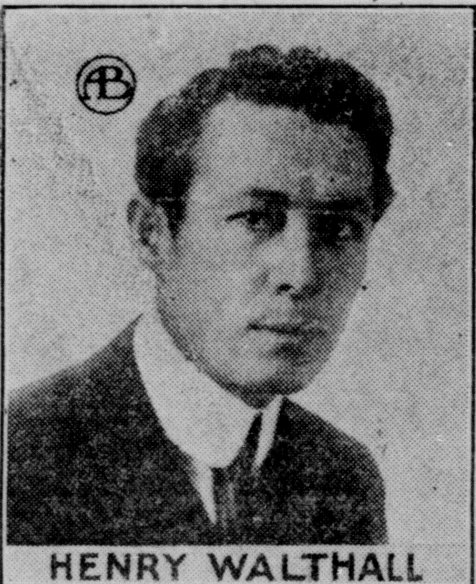

While carrying a stove from Frank Capp's residence during the fire Sunday morning, John Higgs and Jess Retherford were hit by a brick when the north wall of the Masonic block fell. Some bricks hit Mr. Higgs in the back and he was knocked down, but soon recovered. Mr. Retherford sustained some slight bruises on his head.

Bulgaria Apparently Sees No Way Out of It.

WHIPPED TO A STANDSTILL

With the Armies of Her Foes Pressing at the Very Gates of Her Capital, Bulgaria Finds Herself in No Position to Hold Out Longer in Dispute Over Division of Territory Taken From the Turk.

London, July 21.—From all reports the fighting in the Balkans between the Bulgarians and the Greeks, Servians, Montenegrins and Roumanians is all over. One report is that peace will be signed in three days. Bulgaria appears to be willing to cede everything that has been asked by each country in order to procure peace. She had no other alternative, apparently, as the Servians, Greeks and Roumanians are around Sofia on all sides, and the Turkish cavalry under Enver Bey, according to dispatch, has actually entered Adrianople after a short fight with the garrison. Another story says the small Bulgarian garrison had been ordered not to resist Enver Bey's men. The Bashi-Bazouks who accompanied the Turkish regulars are reported to be burning and pillaging in the neighborhood of Adrianople.

Bulgaria has definitely promised to Roumania the cession of the Turtukal Balcchik frontier and has sent General Paprikoff to open negotiations with Greece and Servia at Nish. The Roumanian diplomats are working for a conference of all the belligerents at Sinaja, near Bucharest. Austria and Russia are said to approve of this plan.

Turkey has made a new move. The porte presented a note to the ambassadors of the powers at Constantinople in which Turkey claimed the frontier beginning at Enos and ending at Midia, as agreed upon by the London conference, but the Ottoman government made an enormous curve to the northward of this line, following the course of the Maritza river, so as to include Adrianople.

There are some reports of skirmishes at various points, but no important fighting.

TURKS ENTER ADRIANOPLE

Small Defending Force Powerless to Resist Invasion.

Sofia, Bulgaria, July 21.—The Turks have entered Adrianople after a short conflict with the small Bulgarian defending force.

The Bashi Bazouks are burning, pillaging and committing atrocities.

Roumanian troops are advancing in an easterly direction, threatening eastern Rumelia.

The events of the last few days indicate a complete collapse of the authority of Europe.

FAILED TO DO HIM ANY GOOD

Distinguished Patient of Dr. Friedmann Dies of Consumption.

Topsfield, Mass., July 21.—Alford Warriner Cooley, former United States assistant attorney general and former judge of the New Mexico supreme court, the most prominent patient to receive Dr. Friedrich Friedmann's "cure" for tuberculosis, succumbed to the disease here last night. He was forty years old.

The dramatic 3,000-mile dash across the continent from Silver City, N. M., to Providence, where Dr. Friedmann was then holding his only New England clinic, was sensational. On April 16, within two hours of his arrival in Providence, Judge Cooley received the first injection of vaccine. As Dr. Friedmann's most prominent patient, every attention was paid him and every care taken. Later he received a second injection from Friedmann.

"Judge Cooley had been living on his nerve and his hope in Friedmann," was the comment of one of his friends.

Charged With Murdering Woman.

Indianapolis, July 21.—John Norman, paramour of Daisy McClanahan, who was found dead in the canal a few weeks ago, has been indicted for murder in the first degree. The indictment against Norman is a result of his inability to explain satisfactorily, where he was the night Daisy McClanahan was killed.

Lightning Kills Farmer.

Nashville, Ind., July 21.—Jacob D. Eads, a farmer, living several miles south of this city, was struck and instantly killed by lightning as he was working in a field. Several other men standing near were shocked, but none was seriously injured.

Seventeen-Year-Old Lad Drowned.

Thorntown, Ind., July 21.—Boyd Taylor, seventeen years old, was drowned in Sugar creek about a mile from here. Orville Hall almost succeeded in rescuing him, but lost his hold only a few feet from shallow water.

Suicide of Despondent Farmer.

Shelbyville, Ind., July 21.—George Bailey, aged sixty-five, a wealthy retired farmer, committed suicide at his home in St. Paul by cutting his throat with a razor. He had recently been in a private sanitarium in Indianapolis.

IN MYSTERY CASE

Alice Crispell, Who Was Drowned, and Herbert Johns, Accused Lover.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 21.—Mystery still surrounds the death of Miss Alice Crispell, whose body was found in Harvey's lake. After a second autopsy it was declared that she met death by drowning. Relatives insisted that she had been murdered and that her body was thrown into the water. Herbert Johns, her lover has just been released from jail on habeas corpus proceedings. He was the last person seen with the girl, but he denies any knowledge of her death.

CHINESE REBELLION DAILY IS GROWING

Other Provinces Declare for the South.

Pekin, July 21.—Apparently President Yuan Shih Kai has had the best of the initial moves in the campaign of the southern revolutionaries against the government. Two vital factors in the situation as it began to develop were the attitude of General Hsun who, with a strong force at Shantung, had, while professing loyalty to the republic, kept Yuan Shih Kai at arms' length, and the loyalty of the presidential forces at Wuchang.

General Chang Hsun is now reported to have opposed the revolutionary Nankin army with success in some preliminary engagements and now bars the road to Pekin. The Wuchang forces are still loyal to Yuan Shih Kai. However, six ships of the navy at Shanghai have declared for the south. Southern politicians are fleeing rapidly from Pekin, and the provinces of Kwangtung and Fukien have declared for the south.

Caught by Interurban Car.

Fort Wayne, Ind., July 21.—J. Shutt of Bucyrus was killed and his four-year-old daughter was seriously injured about ten miles east of Fort Wayne, when the buggy in which they were riding was struck by an Ohio Electric limited car. The girl probably will die. Shutt's view of the track was obscured by a building at the crossing.

SINGING FISH THE LATEST.

Bellville Bull Pout Become Musical and Annoy Neighbors.

Singing fish have caused all sorts of excitement in Bellville, O. The fish, a variety of bull pout, live in the subterranean streams and come to the surface and sing.

They gather at the surface of cisterns and quiet pools in the gathering dusk and chant in chorus what a prominent poetess of Bellville calls a sweet, sad, haunting melody, which she likens to the moaning of night winds through lonely, brooding pines.

She also believes that the pout in the subterranean darkness keep track of each other by their cries and that the droning sounds are their callings to their mates. But plain citizens who are kept awake are beginning to say harsh things about the singing fish.

FIFTY CENT FUNERALS.

Government Can Bury Seamen Most Cheaply in Cairo, Ill.

The cheapest place in the world for a seaman to die is Cairo, Ill., where his funeral will cost him only 50 cents, according to contracts let recently by the United States public health service, covering the entire country.

The cheapest place for a seaman to be sick is Bridgeport, Conn., where the government has secured a contract for medical attention and nursing at 72 cents a day. The cost elsewhere ranges from $1 to $3 a day.

The cost of funerals varies from 50 cents in Cairo to $36 in Philadelphia and $50 in Ketchikan, Alaska.

UNCLE SAM HAS A NEW PROJECT

Would Establish a Protectorate Over Nicaragua.

PEACE IN CENTRAL AMERICA

Not Only Would This Be a Direct Result of the Adoption of Such a Policy, but Such an Act Merely Would Be the First Step Toward the Extension of Our Dominion in the Western Hemisphere.

Washington, July 21.—The proposal of the administration to establish what amounts to an American protectorate over Nicaragua generally is accepted as the most far-reaching step in the foreign policy of the United States since the Spanish-American war. As President Wilson's first piece of constructive statesmanship in the realm of foreign affairs, the proposal laid before the senate foreign relations committee by Secretary of State Bryan excited great interest and much approval. The prospects for the success of the administration's plan seemed bright. The arrangement with Nicaragua is assured of strong Republican support, including that of Senators Lodge and Root in the foreign relations committee. With the enthusiastic support of the president and his secretary of state it is considered almost certain that the plan will also receive the acquiescence of the Democratic members. While diplomatic and official Washington were greatly interested in the immediate effect of the Bryan proposal upon Nicaragua, their attention was directed chiefly to the larger aspect of the proposed treaty relations with this southern republic.

The impression was general that Mr. Bryan's present proposal is merely a step in the evolution of a policy which inevitably will provide a more substantial and general control by the United States over Central America.

It is certain that the acceptance of the direct protection of the United States by the single republic of Nicaragua will have a remarkably calming effect on the revolutionary movements and political disturbances in all the other countries of Central America. The certainty of internal peace in this section will go far, it is believed, toward maintaining the stability of Honduras and Salvador, Nicaragua's neighbors on the north. Of Costa Rica on the south there is little cause for anxiety.

An important fact in the proposed arrangement is that not only will the peace and progress of Nicaragua be assured, but by the terms of the treaty the United States will be able to exercise the upper hand on the Gulf of Fonseca. The waters of this gulf, on which the United States is ceded a naval base, wash the shores of Nicaragua and those of Salvador and Honduras as well. In every disturbance in and between those three republics the waters of the Gulf of Fonseca have carried many a revolutionary and filibustering expedition. The domination of the gulf, which is, by the way, the only good harbor between San Diego and South America, will enable the United States effectively to put an end to such demonstrations in that quarter.

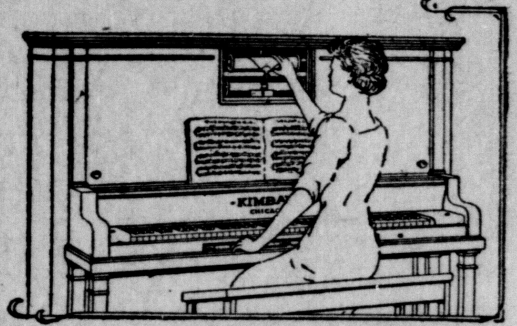

That the movement will end with Nicaragua is not likely. It is believed also that the administration has chosen an opportune moment to bring forward its proposal in regard to Nicaragua. The Mexican situation alone has served to convince not only the new administration at Washington and the Democratic party in congress, but the American people as well, that the United States has grave responsibilities to the rest of the world and duties to itself in the region of the Mexican border. The approaching opening of the Panama canal and the knowledge of the vast changes to be worked on

New York, July 21.—Amos Pinchot suggests that instead of making graft and economy of administration the issues of the coming municipal campaign, the question of municipal ownership should be taken up.

MEDIATION BOARD IS READY FOR BUSINESSMembers Get Together in New York Today.

New York, July 21.—President W. G. Lee of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and President A. B. Garretson of the Order of Railway Conductors are preparing their side of the controversy of the trainmen and conductors with the eastern railroads, which will be presented to the board of mediation and conciliation created under the Newlands amendment to the Erdman act. Judge William Lea Chambers, head of the board, with Judge Martin A. Knapp and G. W. W. Hangar, the other members, will reach this city today. The mediators when they arrive here will see the representatives of both sides and propose to settle the controversy by mediation, as is their duty under the new law. Arbitration is now blocked for the present by the refusal of the conference committees of the trainmen and conductors to recognize the eight grievances of the railroads which the conference committee of managers insists should be included in the stipulation of the propositions to be arbitrated. Unless the railroads withdraw these grievances a strike only remains as the next step. President Garretson said, however, that the truce that has held up the calling of the strike will continue until this has been settled one way or the other.

Bryan Cancels Engagements.

Winona, Ind., July 21.—William J. Bryan has decided to cancel his Chattanooga lectures for the present at least and hurry back to Washington. This announcement was made at the close of Mr. Bryan's lecture here Sunday evening.

TOWN MARSHAL UNDER ARRESTSalem Official Charged With Arson.*ANOTHER ARREST IS EXPECTED

With the Charges Brought Against Grant McCory, Marshal of Salem, Fire Marshal Officials Are Understood to Have Made Charges Against a Former Employee of McCory, Who Is Mysteriously Missing.

Salem, Ind., July 21.—Grant McCory, town marshal of Salem, was arrested on charges of arson, conspiring to commit a felony, swindling an undertaker, uniting with a person whose object is the commission of a felony, and burning to defraud an insurance company. He was released under bond after an appearance before Justice Davis.

Attaches of the state fire marshal's office at Indianapolis are responsible for McCory's arrest. Roger W. Wallace, attorney in the fire marshal's office, and James P. White, assistant state fire marshal, filed papers against McCory. White has been working in and about Salem for a week. The marshal's men assert they will be able to show that McCory hired a "torch" to fire a barn owned by his wife in March of last year, when seven horses and other property valued at $1,000 were destroyed.

The men refuse to discuss evidence in the case at this time. It is understood, however, another arson charge has been made against a former employee of McCory, who is mysteriously missing from Salem. There have been a number of fires of obscure origin in Washington county within the last few years, and several of these have been investigated by the fire marshal's department.

GETTING OFF HIS BONDAccused Township Trustee's Sureties Abandoning Him.

Anderson, Ind., July 21.—Daniel Cooley, farmer of Green township, one of the sureties on the $14,000 bond of William W. Brown, trustee of Green township, who is being held for the murder of Constable Albert Hawkins, has filed a petition in circuit court to be released from Brown's bond.

It is believed that this is the first move on the part of Green township residents to remove the trustee from office. On the day following the murder a delegation of taxpayers consulted local attorneys relative to means of ousting Brown. They were advised that the removal of an official of this kind is difficult, but it was recommended that the sureties be asked to be relieved from the bond.

Brown has expressed himself as intending to hold office as long as possible. He was elected trustee in 1908, but owing to legislation to that effect would naturally have held his office until 1915. Other sureties on his bond are Calvin Brown, W. P. Randall and Jerome Brown. It is not known that Cooley is being backed by the other bondsmen. In case Brown is unable to give other surety it is believed by County Auditor Bennet that the township will be in an awkward plight, inasmuch as $5,000 of school funds is now in the hands of the auditor and without the proper bonding the auditor cannot turn the money over to the trustee.

BIG FIRE AT INDIANAPOLISHalf Million Dollar Blaze Rages in the Wholesale District.

Indianapolis, July 21.—Losses aggregating approximately $500,000 were caused by a fire which originated in the wholesale house of the Layman-Carey company, 111-115 South Meridian street, and spread to adjoining buildings, for a time threatening enormous damage to the wholesale district. An estimate of the losses follows:

Layman-Carey company, $200,000.
Hamilton, Harris & Co., wholesale dealers in tobacco and cigars, $100,000.
Atlas Paper company, $50,000.

L. C. Thiele company, manufacturers of furnaces, $10,000.

The loss to the owners of the buildings is about $100,000.

Run Down by Automobile.

Lebanon, Ind., July 21.—John W. Wheeler, aged sixty-four, a stranger, was run down by an automobile near Mechanicsburg and died three hours later in a hospital. Thomas Wiley, a farmer living near Elizaville, was driving the machine under which the man was injured. Wheeler died without giving any information about himself other than that he had a brother in California.

ARCADIANS WIN IN THIRTEENTH

Late Finish Gives Rushville Victory
Over Fast Y. M. I. Team of Cincinnati.

COOK DRIVES WINNING RUN

"Chick" Avery Saves Game in Tenth
With Three Base Smash—
Sensational Contest.

It was Eddie Cook, who broke up the game with the Y. M. I. team yesterday afternoon in the thirteenth inning as it was his swat that brought the Arcadians across a winner in one of the most sensational games ever seen in this city. The score was 6 to 5. But the score is a small item. It was that finish in the thirteenth that counted.

Twice after the ninth inning the Y. M. I. aggregation scored and it looked as though Rushville was to be defeated. But nothing stopped the Arcadians and every time the Institute team scored Rushville came right back in their half and tied it up. This continued until the thirteenth. In the thirteenth the Y. M. I. failed to count and then changed pitchers, Heckel relieving Conway. Charles Coombs, the first man to face the new pitcher singled and was advanced to third by a sacrifice and an out. With two down Cook lined one over second and Coombs romped home with the winning run.

The game was air-tight from start to finish and was full of sensational fielding and nothing looked too hard. The Rushville team put up a swell game behind "Chick" Avery and he was afforded the best support that he has received this year. Everything was fielded. Drives that looked to be good for safe hits were pulled down and the fielders took in all chances.

The teams were evenly matched and for five innings Rushville could do nothing with Conway. Conway was the whole show for this distance then along came old "Chick" Avery, and his war club and counted Rushville's first run, when he drove one to the willows for a home run. The game went to the eighth with Rushville still two runs behind. Again it was Avery who started the fireworks when it looked to be all over. With two down in the eighth Avery singled and took third when Charles Coombs hit safely to right field. Along came Mattern and singled and Avery and Coombs scored tying up the game. Y. M. I. counted in the tenth. This did not stop Rushville and the Arcadians would not be defeated, again tying it up. Both teams counted again in the eleventh. Neither side scored in the twelfth and then came the finish with two men down.

Conway surely had something on the ball. For five innings the locals could do nothing with his delivery. The late finish of the Rushville team shows that the team will fight to the last ditch and even after the Y. M. I. team had scored twice in the extra innings the team did not give up and twice the score was again tied with two men out. In the tenth with two down and Pierce on first it was Avery who again came to the rescue. This time "Chick" drove a long fly to the willows which went for three bases. Besides being a big factor at the bat Avery also pitched some game himself and in the end was better than Conway. "Chick" let the heavy hitting Y. M. I. down to eight hits.

The secret of Conway's success as a pitcher lies in the catcher. Keifel was the whole show for Conway. He used headwork on the local batters and almost every time his judgment was good. Keifel pulled a good one on the Arcadians in the eighth inning. With two gone and a man on third Avery purposely walked Keifel. On reaching first Keifel just kept on going and drew the play his direction. As soon as the ball was thrown in his direction and the man from third scored and Keifel was safe on second.

The game was a pretty affair to watch. Both teams pulled off plays which caused the fans to sit up and take notice. Yazel was the star in the outfield for the locals. The local lad took all chances. Once after a hard run he pulled down one with one hand and saved a run. Conway weakened after the ninth, and in the first of the thirteenth Heckel was sent in to pitch. C. Coombs singled. Mattern sacrificed him to second. Jones was out, O'Connell to Zurlage, Coombs taking third on the play. With two strikes and no balls Cook came across with the bingle and the stuff was all off.

Notes of the Game

Conway lived up to his reputation as a pitcher. Conway allowed ten hits in twelve innings and struck out fourteen men.

But at that he didn't have a thing on Avery. Old "Chick" was sure right yesterday and he almost wore himself out running the bases.

Games like that of yesterday will sure attract the fans. It was by far the best game ever played here and was replete with swell plays. The team is going good and a record crowd is expected next Sunday when the Indianapolis Specials are taken on for a return game. The Specials will use Starkey who recently defeated Rushville by a 11 to 1 count.

Charles Coombs deserves a lot of credit. He hit the old ball like he meant it. Out of three trips to the plate he got two hits.

Bobby Klenk retired from the game in the seventh inning. Klenk received an injury to his eye, and could not stay in the contest. Pierce was shifted to short and did remarkable well considering that he is an outfielder.

The Y. M. I. team is one of the best seen here this year. The game was devoid of all rag chewing and the Institute boys played a nice clean game. Things looked bad for Rushville up until the sixth and still worse in the extra innings when the visitors slipped across their runs. The one run leads id not worry and the old gang was there when hits meant runs.

was terrific and drove the firemen back. It was seen that there was no hope for the Temple and the firemen gave their attention to saving other property. The Masonic temple burned very quickly and the wall soon crumbled and fell. When the north wall fell outward and towards the Capp residence it left the house exposed to the heat and it was only a short time until the Capp home was on fire.

The L. L. Allen grocery and the boarding house directly across the street from the Temple were saved only by a game fight. Sam Finney, Jr., stayed with a line of hose and fought the fire in front of the intense heat coming from the Temple after the west wall had fallen. Finney probably saved the L. L. Allen store as the front of the building was on fire time and time again only to be put out by him. The windows were all broken as were those in the telephone building. Had the frame building occupied by the L. L. Allen store caught on fire it is problematical the extent of damage that would have resulted.

All that saved the home of Mrs. O. P. Dillon from burning is the fact that all of the south wall of the Temple did not fall. The section of wall that was left standing protected Mrs. Dillon's property from the heat and with a stream of water on the roof the house was saved. There was very little wind which was in favor of the firemen. The residence of Frank Capp burned slowly and it was impossible to make an effort to save it. The house caught on fire near the roof next to the Temple and the firemen were powerless to fight the flames.

Several houses in Perkins street were on fire but bucket brigades kept them from burning. By four o'clock the Capp residence was in ruins and it was then seen that the flames would spread no farther.

Efforts to gain entrance to the post-office after the first alarm failed so thick was the smoke. The Masons were unable to gain entrance to the upstairs and no effort could be made to save any of their belongings. Of the four business firms the United States Express Co. was the only one to save anything. All the valuable packages were taken out before the flames broke through.

J. W. Jackson could give no idea of the cause of the fire. Mr. Jackson stated that he closed his store at twelve o'clock Saturday night and at that time every thing was all right. When asked concerning the probability of the fire starting from mice and matches, Mr. Jackson stated that he thought this was not the case. "I do not remember ever seeing any mice in the store," said Mr. Jackson, "but there were a few rats in the rear." The match supply was kept near the center of the room and near the dry goods department. One of the theories for the fire was the matches and mice idea but Mr. Jackson does not believe this origin.

SISTER DIES IN EAST.

Jacob Schaeffer, 1031 North Perkins street, received word last night that his sister, Mrs. Cleener, who lived in Philadelphia, Pa., was dead. The news of her death came as a shock to the relatives in this county. None of the relatives here will be able to attend the funeral.

Mrs. Mary Spaulding, mother of Mrs. James Champion of this city, died in Indianapolis yesterday. Mrs. Champion has been at her bedside for the past two weeks. The funeral will be held at the late home in Prospect street tomorrow afternoon.
